DESCRIPTION ET EQUIPEMENTS

Concours Restauration Matching colors & numbers Most desired Drophead Coupe (DHC)-version The DB2/4 was one of the fastest production cars of its time, how did they manage with such a modest engine capacity to produce such a fast yet a very comfortable and luxurious car? The Bentley Drivers' Club even called it "the fastest shooting brake in the world". The biggest modifications of the new 2+2 seating arrangement with its 2nd row of seats allowed for a comfortable ride with the entire family. In addition to the 2nd row of seats, the DB 2/4 had a more powerful Vantage version of the 2.6-liter engine, a curved windshield instead of the DB2's finned windshield, higher-set headlights, and more clunky and solid bumpers. Our Aston Martin DB2/4 Drophead coupe is one (...)
