DESCRIPTION ET EQUIPEMENTS

First owner & first paint Original Belgain car Full service history Introduced at the 1975 Paris Motor Show, the 308 GTB quickly became a popular choice among sports car enthusiasts. It was praised for its combination of performance and handling, and for its sleek, aerodynamic design. The car's Quattrovalvole engine was particularly notable for delivering exceptional power and torque while being relatively economical. Over the course of its production, the 308 GTB underwent several updates and modifications. A fuel-injected version of the car was introduced in 1977, and in 1979 the car received a minor facelift that included modified headlights and bumpers. The last version of the 308 GTB, the Quattrovalvole, was introduced in 1982 and remained in production until 1985. Our (...)
